

Friday 6th January 2023

Dear Parents/carers,

As part of the RE topic 'Special words and stories' children will be given the chance to share books from home that are special to them. This may be a book that makes them laugh, a favourite storybook that they request at bedtime over and over again, a scrap book or a book passed to them by a special person.

This is a great opportunity to talk to your child about which books are special to them and why. At school we will discuss the books that are special to us and build on this by exploring texts that are important to people from a range of faiths.

Please could your child bring their special book to school in a named plastic bag on Wednesday 11th January so that they can share it with their class.

Thank you for your support.
